Faubus to Tell Political Plans on TV Saturday

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he "very likely" will announce his political plans over a statewide radio and television network Saturday night.

Faubus told a news conference he had tentatively engaged a half hour between 7:30 and 8 p.m.

The governor declined again to give any clue as to what his announcement might be, but the method is a departure from his previous pre-campaign tactics. Always before Faubus has timed his announcement for re-election to coincide with publication of weekly newspapers over the state.

Several Capitol sources took today's announcement to mean Faubus has decided not to seek a fifth term.

Faubus said he had tried to arrange with television and radio stations so that he would pay for the broadcast if he announces for governor and get the time free as a public service if he declines to run.

He predicted there would be "not less than 10 and maybe as many as a dozen and a half" candidates for governor if he chooses not to run.

"Whether all would stay in the race to the end is problematical," Faubus said. "But it costs only $1,500 to enter and between $1,500 and $20,000 to get a campaign launched and several local candidates could raise that much money."

Faubus was asked if his health would have any influence on his decision.

He replied his health was fair and when pressed for elaboration, he said, "It could be better and it could be worse."

Faubus said Saturday's broadcast would originate in the studios of KARK-TV in Little Rock.

Whether he buys the time or tries to get it for nothing, he said, it will be offered to all three Little Rock television stations and to enough other stations over the state to insure complete coverage.

The governor said his friends would pay for the broadcast if it is necessary to pay.

Faubus was in good spirits and appeared to enjoy the jousting game as newsmen tried to pry out of him a clue to his intentions.

He returned to the Capitol Monday after a week's vacation, looking rested for the first time in several weeks. He said Monday that he had reached a decision about his plans during the vacation.

Faubus is running far behind his schedule of 1958 and 1960

Memphis Plans to Appeal Ruling

MEMPHIS (AP)—The Memphis Board of Education announced Monday it will definitely appeal a Circuit Court of Appeals decision that knocked out the board's school desegregation plan.

William D. Galbreath, school board president, said the board had instructed its attorney to proceed with a petition to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The high court will be asked to reverse a decision handed down by the Sixth Circuit Federal Court of Appeals in Cincinnati last Friday disallowing the Tennessee Pupil Assignment Law as a plan for public school integration.

A century of public segregation was ended here last October when 13 Negro first graders were admitted to four previously all-white schools. They were transferred from Negro schools after their applications were processed under provisions of the assignment law.

Early Spring Weather Prevailing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pleasant early spring-weather prevailed across the major part of the nation today.

There were a few sections hit by light rain or snow but skies generally were fair and temperatures comparatively mild.

The only wet spots during the night were in parts of New England, with drizzle and light snow; the Pacific Northwest with showers and occasional rain, and in the eastern Carolinas which reported showers.

Pog blanketed the snow-covered area of the extreme Eastern Dakotas, northern Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

In Iowa, floods threatened Sioux City and Spencer as the melt of the heavy snow covering sent rivers out of their banks. Sioux City was threatened by overflows from the Floyd River on the east side of the city and by the Big Sioux River on the west side.

The Little Sioux River gave concern to Spencer, with a predicted crest of 20 feet, 10 feet above flood stage.

In Nebraska, West Point and Valley, in the northeast section, were hardest hit by the flooding Elkhorn River. Ten blocks of West Point, a town of about 2,600 were flooded, forcing the evacuation on Sunday of some 200 persons. An ice jam broke again Monday pouring more water over the inundated section.

In Valley, where 90 per cent of the village had been flooded Monday, the water began flowing out late in the day.

Temperatures were in the 40s and 50s during the early morning most of the country. Below freezing marks were confined to most sections of the Great Lakes region, the upper Mississippi Valley and eastern South Dakota.

March 30, Grain Program Deadline

Growers who are still "thinking it over" about participating in the 1962 feed grain program were urged today not to delay any longer. The sign-up period extends only through March 30.

Claude Self, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reports that farmer interest is high in Hempstead County as well as throughout the country generally. Indications are that 1962 participation will run well ahead of that under last year's feed grain program.

Coroner's Jury Accepts Findings

A Hempstead County coroner's jury late yesterday accepted Coroner Lynn Harris' findings in the death of Euradell D. Warren, 27, Negro, who was found dead in the Hempstead County Jail Sunday. He had been jailed Saturday for drunkenness.

Dr. Harris ruled death from a "pulmonary" condition. The jury ruled "death from natural causes." The jury was presided over by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Al Graves Jr.

Author Tells Lions of Experiences

Monday, the Lions Club heard Jack Youngblood, a soldier of fortune from Allene, Ark. talk on his experiences as a pilot and fighter in Mexico and Cuba from 1953 to 1959. He was an intimate acquaintance of the Castro brothers from the time he met them in Mexico in the mid 50s until shortly before Castro took over in Cuba. He pointed out that the people of Cuba were living under the suppression of Batista and thought any change would be an improvement. Later Jack worked for an anti-Castro group and now has a price on his head offered by the Castro government. Jack has written some of his exploits and adventures in a provocative book called "The Devil To Pay."

The Lions Club voted to send a boy to Boys State and to join the Kiwanis Club in purchasing trophies for the winners of the spelling bee to be held this Saturday morning.

"Route 66" CBS-TV series will deal with the work of the Lions Club on its program this Friday, March 30.

Radio Man Will Be a Candidate

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—John Paul Capp, 28, of Searcy, announcer and assistant manager of radio station KWCB, filed Monday as a candidate for White County representative.

The county currently has two representatives, Herbert Moody of Bald Knob and Ralph Underhill of Beebe, but a recent Arkansas Supreme Court decision took one seat away from the county.

Underhill has announced plans for seeking re-election but has not filed.

Bettie Ruteliff is student director.

Reaction to Ruling on Legislatures

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A Supreme Court ruling that a citizen may ask a federal court to decide if his state's legislature is out of balance between city and rural representatives appears likely to set off court suits and special legislative sessions in many states.

One suit was filed within two hours after the decision was handed down Monday. A taxpayer in Atlanta asked that Georgia's county unit system be thrown out. Under the system, he argued, a man's vote in cities is worth much less than that of a country voter.

His argument is an old one. Many states have such suits pending. But the city voters had a new weapon in hand today in their long fight to prod rural representatives out of some of their

Army Court Convicts Reservist

FT. POLK, La. (AP)—A five-officer military court convicted Pfc. Bernis Owen, 23, of Seadrift, Tex., today of disrespect in calling an order of his commanding general a "hilarious climax to a chain of injustices."

Maj. Thomas N. Fuller, president of the special court-martial, announced the decision after a secret ballot which required a two-third majority to convict Owen.

The panel returned from its closed quarters where it considered punishment and handed Owen a sentence of six months at hard labor and loss of two-thirds pay for six months, a heavier penalty than had been expected. The court-martial is subject to appeal and automatic review by a higher Army board.

Capt. Edgar Nash, head of Owen's four-man defense staff, pleaded with the court to consider Owen had a good record and that he had no intent of being malicious.

The defense contended Owen told a New Orleans newsmen who interviewed him by long distance telephone that the statement could not be used unless the newsmen first cleared it with military authorities.

The order banning protest demonstrations, issued last week by Maj. Gen. Harley B. West, commander of the post, followed a series of meetings by several hundred reservists.

The prosecution introduced, a signed statement in which Owen acknowledged making critical remarks, but the soldier added the United Press International newsmen promised to get the comment cleared by military authorities.

Bid Accepted on Millwood Timber

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP)—Firms from Nashville and Wilton, Ark., presented apparent high bids on five tracts of timber in the Millwood Reservoir area in Sevier and Little River counties today.

Bids were opened by Army Engineers, and high bids will be submitted to the Tulsa office of the engineers.

Robert C. Smith, chief of management and disposal for the engineers at Tulsa, said all bids were below government estimates, but he did not say what the estimates were.

Gunter Bros. Lumber Co. of Wilton bid $13,652 for 1,754 acres and $7,266 for another 1,030 acres. Nashville Baskel Co. of Nashville bid $3,995 for 1,324 acres and $9,125 for 710 acres.

Scott Lumber Co. of Nashville bid $22,375 for 1,576 acres.

The land must be cleared before the giant Millwood Reservoir project can get into full swing. Some access road work already has been done.

The project will cost $55.7 million and will provide flood control, water supply and recreational facilities for southwest Arkansas.

It is scheduled for completion in 1966. Work on the earth-fill dam on Little River is scheduled to begin this year.

Young Folks in State Need Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said on television here Monday night that 5,800 young people in Arkansas are seeking jobs.

Faubus, appearing on a half-hour program sponsored by the Arkansas Employment Security Division, said something must be done to alleviate the situation "before 20,000 more" graduate from high school in May.

The governor urged businessmen throughout the state to contact the ESD when jobs are available "so we can keep our youth in Arkansas."

Southerners End Debate in Poll Tax Fight

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate goes back to its regular schedule today after Southerners suddenly broke off their 10-day talkfest against an antipoll tax amendment.

Senate leaders now feel the amendment will sail through the Senate by the end of the week.

The debate, which stopped committee hearings and held up other legislation, ended last Monday. The Senate then agreed 2 to 15 to take up the minor bill—to make Alexander Hamilton's home a national monument—that will serve as the vehicle for the amendment.

After the vote Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told newsmen he was confident the matter would be cleaned up this week with overwhelming passage of the amendment.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was quite hopeful of the same outcome. One Southern senator said privately he felt the final vote would come by the end of this week.

The Southerners had tied up almost all Senate business with their word war, but they folded late Monday without using all of the weapons at their command.

Each senator was entitled to speak twice, but several Southerners did not bother to make their second speech, even though they oppose the poll tax ban.

The sudden decision to end the speeches apparently meant the Southerners fighting the antipoll tax measure were convinced they had built up a satisfactory record of opposition with the voters in their home states.

The proposed constitutional amendment would make it impossible for any state to impose a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in a federal election. Five states—Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia—now have such a levy.

In Monday's vote, 14 Southerners joined by Sen. J. J. Hickey, D-Wyo., opposed bringing up the Hamilton bill; no Republicans supported them.

Backing the motion were 2 Republicans and 3 Democrats, including five Southern democrats—Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida, Russell B. Long of Louisiana, B. Everett Jordan of North Carolina, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, and Ralph W. Yarborough of Texas.

Also charged is David L. Parr, the association's secretary-manager.

Carpenter, who is expected to resume testimony today, told Monday of prices he paid CAMPA for hauling milk to his farm.

CAMPA and Parr have denied the allegations, contending the association's activities fall "within well recognized exceptions" to the Clayton Antitrust Act.

The hearing is being conducted by Herman Tocker, FTC examiner.

CAMPA is composed of some 1,500 dairy farmers in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri, which principal operations in Arkansas.

Revival services are going in to the third week at the First Assembly of God. Evangelist W. Thurmon Fountain has been asked to continue his ministry each night this week at 7:30 p.m. through Friday, March 30. The meetings at 10 a.m. daily will also be continued.

Some Points of Agreement Are Made on Berlin

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko announced in a joint statement today that their Geneva talks have uncovered some points of agreement as well as of differences over Berlin.

It was understood from American sources that one of the points of agreement is that neither side wants to become involved in a war over Berlin. But neither side, it was reported, made a change in major policy.

The statement was issued just before Rusk and leading members of the American delegation took a plane for Washington to report to President Kennedy that the Berlin dispute remains highly dangerous though unlikely to explode in the foreseeable future.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Howard Green submitted a draft declaration to the 17-nation disarmament conference calling for action by no later than Wednesday on outlawing weapons of mass destruction from outer space.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has claimed that Russian scientists have created a global rocket invulnerable to antimissile defenses that can evade American radar detection installations by attacking from any direction.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union in their proposed disarmament plans included provisions reserving outer space for peaceful purposes.

Under Greens declaration the orbiting or stationing in outer space of devices for delivering weapons of mass destruction would be prohibited.

A nation would also be obliged to give advance notice to the United Nations of the launching of space vehicles and missiles.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home gave strong support to the Canadian proposal. He then left for home, but said he would come back any time his presence is needed.

Rusk and Gromyko in their joint statement on their Berlin talks said they had made some progress in clarifying points of agreement as well as points of difference. They added that they agreed to "resume contact in an appropriate way" after reporting to their governments and consulting allies. These discussions are expected to continue through ambassadors in Moscow and Washington.

Fronzidi's office confirmed that "the president of the nation expressed to Gen. Aramburu that he maintains firmly his decision not to resign his post."

Fronzidi appeared to stand nearly alone in the darkest hour of his four years in office. He had the backing only of a diehard segment of his own Radical Intransigent party.

"The only thing on his side is the constitution," said an associate dejectedly.

FTC Hearing Against Milk Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—John C. Carpenter, a former Crossell Creamery owner, was the first witness Monday in the opening of a Federal Trade Commission hearing on charges against the Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association.

The FTC has charged CAMPA, which distributes milk to independent producers, with participating in a conspiracy in restraint of trade and favoring certain buyers with discriminatory prices.

Also charged is David L. Parr, the association's secretary-manager.

Carpenter, who is expected to resume testimony today, told Monday of prices he paid CAMPA for hauling milk to his farm.

CAMPA and Parr have denied the allegations, contending the association's activities fall "within well recognized exceptions" to the Clayton Antitrust Act.

The hearing is being conducted by Herman Tocker, FTC examiner.

CAMPA is composed of some 1,500 dairy farmers in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri, which principal operations in Arkansas.

Fronzide Near End of Rope in Argentina

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A military coup to topple President Arturo Frondizi appeared to draw nearer today after he rejected a plea for his resignation from his own hand-picked mediator, ex-President Pedro Aramburu.

Fronzidi's insistence on holding on to the office to which he was elected four years ago drew a proclamation of open rebellion from Gen. Franklin Rawson, commander of the 3rd Cavalry Division based 180 miles south of Buenos Aires.

Rawson accused the president of betraying Gen. Aramburu's mediation efforts and said the use of force remains the only path open to those opposing Frondizi. He called on all other military units to join him in rebellion.

There was no immediate evidence that Rawson's threat was being implemented by action on any front. The position of the air force and a large segment of the army was still not clear. The navy was all for ousting Frondizi.

Extra security precautions were taken at Government House. A company of mounted grenadiers wearing battle fatigues arrived during the night.

Unconfirmed reports indicated all was normal at Tandil, Rawson's headquarters. However, the same reports spoke of unusual pre-dawn activity at the naval base and nearby military establishments at Bahia Blanca, 350 miles southwest of the capital.

Aramburu conferred after midnight with Frondizi in the president's private suburban residence, then told newsmen that Frondizi had declared "he is not resigning and will not resign."

The ex-president, one of Argentina's most respected figures because he ended military government three years after the overthrow of dictator Juan Peron, issued a proclamation declaring the consensus of everyone he had consulted was that Frondizi's resignation was the only solution.

Fronzidi's office confirmed that "the president of the nation expressed to Gen. Aramburu that he maintains firmly his decision not to resign his post."

Fronzidi appeared to stand nearly alone in the darkest hour of his four years in office. He had the backing only of a diehard segment of his own Radical Intransigent party.

"The only thing on his side is the constitution," said an associate dejectedly.

Bible Class Honors Past Presidents

Past Presidents Day was observed at the Century Bible Class of the First Methodist Church on Sunday, March 25 with 248 present.

Organized in January, 1946, by Earl Clifton, now of Camden, the class has had 22 presidents. All are still living and 19 were at the service. The wives of the former presidents were the special guests and each was presented a red rose.

The group was welcomed by Judge Lyle Brown, a past president and brief talks were given by former chief executives, George Frazier, A. W. "Buddy" McIver, C. W. Bridgers, Ed Aslin and Ray Turner.

Milton Eason now holds the office of president.

Revival services are going in to the third week at the First Assembly of God. Evangelist W. Thurmon Fountain has been asked to continue his ministry each night this week at 7:30 p.m. through Friday, March 30. The meetings at 10 a.m. daily will also be continued.

Florida Case Testimony Continues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A n Internal Revenue Service tax agent
was to resume testimony here today in the government's multi-
million dollar tax suit against George and Andrew Florida of Ocala.

The federal government contends the wealthy brothers owe
in excess of $9 million in back
taxes, penalties and interest for
the years 1951-54 and 1955-57.

The agent, Eugene D. Brown of Memphis, testified for over three hours Monday after the trial resumed following a two-week delay.

Brown traced some $3.5 million
which he said was shuffled among Florida corporations with the money ending as income for the
brothers or one of their 13 corporations with no tax returns
filed.

Robert L. Handros of Washington, D.C., a Department of Justice attorney, told the court the
government was entitled not only to the taxes on this, but also a
civil fraud penalty because of the manner in which the funds were transferred.

Much of Monday's testimony
was technical with Florida money-
flow being traced by the government through charts and schedules of sums the government contends were used with "an intent
to defraud."

The government is asking federal district court to determine
the amount owed by the brothers,
their wives and corporations.

Also being sought is an order
for liquidation of Florida assets.

Desegregates Memphis Port

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
Supreme Court directed today an
immediate ban on racial segregation in a restaurant in the Memphis, Tenn., Municipal Airport
building.

Lower federal courts were ordered to issue the ban.

The Supreme Court overturned
a ruling by a special three-judge
U.S. District Court in Memphis
that said Tennessee state courts
should interpret state laws, regulations and city ordinances involved in a segregation case before any federal court action is taken.

The Supreme Court's vote was 8-0. Justice Whitaker took no
part.

The highest tribunal in an unsigned opinion said there was no
reason for federal courts to put off action in the case, saying "on
the merits, no issue remains to
be resolved."

Texan Drowns in Lake Ouachita

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Officers said the body of a man
identified as A. D. Willingham,
about 45, of Wichita Falls, Tex.,
was recovered from Lake Ouachita
here today.

Officers said the victim's companion, Bob Bridwell, also of Wichita Falls, told them the two
were fishing in the lake Sunday
when their boat hit a hidden object in the lake and capsized.

Officers said Bridwell clung to
the two floating boat seats and
made his way to shore.

Willingham was found with a
life preserver and one seat cush-
ion, floating in the main channel
of the lake.

Suggests Seats May Be Frozen

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Or-
val E. Faubus suggested Monday
that persons dissatisfied with a
recent state Supreme Court ruling
on reapportionment seek a constitutional amendment to freeze
House seats.

But, the governor said, he
doubts if anyone will turn to federal courts for a solution.

He pointed out that Senate seats
already are frozen by such an amendment.

The state is required to redi-
vide House seats following every
federal census because no such
amendment exists.

In a recent decision, the Arkansas Supreme Court took single
seats away from White, Poinsett,
Mississippi and Ouachita counties
while giving Pulaski three and Jefferson County one.

This action superceded that of
the state Board of Apportionment
which took one seat from Mississippi County and gave it to Miller County while leaving the remainder unchanged.

Fight Scene Saturday Was for Real

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of
sports-watchers on Saturday night
saw boxer Benny Paret, after absorbing many blows, slip unconscious onto the floor of the ring.
Then the television cameras
showed doctors working over the
fallen and critically injured ex-
champion and his removal on a stretcher.

The scene is a familiar one to anyone who has watched the
many television and movie
dramas about prizefights. But
Saturday night it was different:
Those were real blows Paret was
taking, and his slump to the floor
was that of a man who had suffered a serious injury. And, to judge from comments by viewers,
it was a chilling thing to see.

But, perhaps the most unfortunate part was the decision of ABC to re-run immediately the
tape showing the final moments
of the fight, complete with scenes
of emergency treatment of the unconscious man.

It is somehow ironic that this
occurred at a time when television's critics are complaining of
excessive violence and brutality
in its program content. But the offensive violence and brutality is
the Hollywood type—phony, compounded of fierce swings that
miss their mark by inches and heroic tussles by stunt men using

Crooked Creek Dam Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed dam for Crooked Creek
near Harrison, Ark., reached closer
to reality here Monday with approval by the Army's Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors.

A dam for the creek was proposed last year after a devastating flood wrecked the Harrison
business district.

Residents of the stricken area
appealed to Army Corps of Engineers for a large single dam
while other groups proposed a series of smaller dams.

Col. John C. Dalrymple, district
engineer for the Corps, said the
engineers had recommended to Washington that a single structure be built, with supporting levees for flood control and water
supply.

The federal government would

Fined $10,000 for Failure to File

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Stutt-
gart resident, whose attorney said
he never before had filed income
tax returns, was fined $10,000 in U.S. District Court here Monday
for failing to file such returns for
the years 1955-59.

Alfred L. Hildebrand pleaded
guilty before Judge Gordon E.
Young and received a two-year
suspended sentence in addition to
the fine.

William Moorhead of Stuttgart,
Hildebrand's attorney, said the 55
year-old client had never filed income tax returns, but has already
paid $260,922 in back taxes,
penalties and interest for 1930-59.

The government contends Hilde-
brand failed to report $404,561 in gross income tax for the 1955-59
period.

Pending in federal court are similar suits against two of Hilde-
brand's brothers-in-law, Harrison
and Ralph Watkins, both of Stuttgart.

seats in state capitols and get more representation for themselves.

Because of Monday's decision, their hopes were higher.

In 1946 the Supreme Court said that "courts ought not to enter the political thicket. The remedy for unfairness in districting is to secure state legislatures that will apportion properly, or to invoke the ample powers of Congress."

Monday the court decided 6 to 2 a federal court can step in and determine whether city voters are unconstitutionally discriminated against in the apportionment of legislative seats.

The case had to do with Tennessee where there has been no reapportionment in 61 years. The decision had meaning in many other states.

In Pennsylvania, a watchdog group called the Committee of Seventy, declared it would bring suit unless the legislature redistricts during its session which begins in January.

Gov. John Patterson of Alabama said he may call a special session of the legislature. Last summer a group of Alabama voters sued in Montgomery, asking the district court to compel the legislature to reapportion itself. Their pending suit requested the court to force candidates for House and Senate to run at large this year unless the legislature was reapportioned.

In Topeka, Kan., Dist. Judge Marion Beatty said any action on a pending suit seeking to force reapportionment of the legislature would be delayed to permit all concerned to study the Supreme Court decision. Briefs had been due Friday.

In its decision in the Tennessee case, the Supreme Court said it would be improper for it to consider now what remedy would be most appropriate if the city voters prove their case at the trial.

Supreme Court sources, however, said this would be the follow-up on the ruling.

After 25 days of the Supreme Court clerk notifies the special three-judge federal court in Nashville that it has authority to act on complaints. The special court will hold a trial to give complaining voters an opportunity to try to prove their claims.

If the special court decides that urban voters' rights to equal protection under the 14th Amendment have been denied, it will determine what remedies to order.

Solicitor General Archibald Cox, arguing before the Supreme Court in support of urban voters, suggested a simple declaration by the special court that present Tennessee districts are unconstitutional would probably lead to action by the Tennessee Legislature to correct inequities.

Cox said that if the legislature resists, the special court could order one of the following:

An election at large.

The value of votes of state senators and representatives be reduced by an amount necessary to offset over-representation — giving legislators fractional rather than full votes.

Simple changes in legislative districts.

Opponents of such orders could appeal to the Supreme Court.

U. S. Policy on Attack Reaffirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that it has been, and still is U.S. policy to use "all available means" to prevent the over-running of the West through a massive conventional attack on Europe by the Soviet Union.

This word came in reaction to an article in the Saturday Evening Post by Stewart Alsop quoting President Kennedy as saying that, "In some circumstances we might have to take the initiative" in a nuclear war with Russia.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger did not verify this. But he was ready for a question about the article and read this brief statement to newsmen:

"The quotation given in the Alsop article must be read in total context. The President's statement represents no change in American policy.

"It has always been clear that in such a context as a massive conventional attack on Europe by the Soviet Union, which would put Europe in danger of being overrun, the West would have to prevent such an event by all available means. This has been United States policy since the late 1940's, and it represents no change.

"The real change, as Mr. Alsop points out elsewhere in the article, is in the strengthening of our defensive alternatives to nuclear warfare."

Salinger told a questioner that he had not checked to see whether Alsop quoted the Chief Executive correctly. He said Alsop interviewed Kennedy five or six weeks ago.

Alsop cited a "clear attack on Western Europe" as an example of a situation in which he said Kennedy feels this country must be prepared to use nuclear weapons regardless of the consequences.

He said also, "The President's clear determination to risk nuclear war rather than tamely surrender Berlin has saved Berlin so far."

The Alsop article quoted Kennedy as saying at one point:

"I don't think most Americans realize the way the situation has changed. I don't think many people really understand the change. As late as 1954 the balance in air power, in the nuclear weapons, was all on our side. The change began about 1958 or 1959, with the missiles.

"Now we have got to realize that both sides have these annihilating weapons, and that changes the problem.

"Of course in some circumstances we must be prepared to use the nuclear weapon at the start, come what may—a clear attack on Western Europe, for example.

"But what is important is that if you use these weapons you have to control their use. What you need is control, flexibility, a choice."

Daughter's Boy Friend a Steady Boarder

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My daughter is a junior in a college not far from our town. She usually commutes but this year, wanting to assert her independence, found an apartment directly across from the college buildings. A girl friend shares it with her.

Our problem is the boy to whom she became "pinned" last spring. He is tops in his studies and putting himself through college — a fine boy, save for one thing: every time we go to our daughter's apartment he is under foot. Last time, he had fallen asleep on the living room couch waiting for her not yet back from classes. Now he and the two girls have decided to eat together every evening—he's to buy the meat, they do the cooking!

I feel that he should not snooze on their living room couch or become their steady boarder. My daughter says that is the only way they can see each other since he has no car and she comes home most weekends. I think she should be studying or, if he comes, go with him to a movie, instead of hanging around home. Am I too old-fashioned, or warped in my thinking? — Disturbed Mother.

Dear Disturbed: Your daughter's boy friend is presumptuous. If she's as independent as her decision to live away from home would indicate, he'll be old hat and on his way out before he knows it. Judging from his record

Teacher Contract Clause Illegal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said Monday a 30-day termination clause in a teacher's contract with a school district is illegal.

The opinion by Atty. Gen. Frank Holt went to Supt. J. F. Wahl of Helena and said state law provides that teachers be employed by annual contract.

Wahl said his school district had included the 30 day clause in its contract.

Holt said none of this precluded dismissal of a teacher for sufficient cause at any time.

Castro Has Trouble With Communists

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (P)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro assailed "old Communist militants" Monday night for believing they are the only ones capable of leading the Cuban revolution. He accused one of them, Arnibal Escalante, of creating "real chaos" in Cuba by trying to enhance his own political power.

Castro charged that Escalante, a top planner in Cuba's march toward communism, had sought through personal ambition to model Cuba's new monolithic political party along his own sectarian lines.

The Cuban leader denounced his Communist aide in a radio-television address to the nation before a considerable number of ranking government members in the studio audience.

Castro did not specify that Escalante had been dismissed from his top posts but indicated he had saying: "We have come to explain the separation of this companion whom we consider culpable."

Escalante, 53, founder and former editor of the Communist newspaper Hoy, only two weeks ago was named to the 25-member national directorate of the Integrated Revolutionary Organizations—ORI.

commander, said he listened to the interview on an extension telephone and warned Owen during the call that Owen would face court-martial if the comment were published.

The defense continually objected that MacManus' action in listening to Owen's conversation was illegal and contrary to provisions against revealing wiretap evidence. The court ruled it did not believe an extension telephone was a wiretap device.

MacManus testified, "Owen kept telling him (the newsman) to clear with the PIO (public information officer). He told him at least three times. I told him (Owen) he was subject to court-martial if that was published."

MacManus said Owen followed his instructions, even to repeating to the newsman some things the captain said.

Defense counsel succeeded in striking two of the three counts against Owen on grounds all were for the same offense.

Florida Case Testimony Continues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A n internal Revenue Service tax agent
was to resume testimony here to-
day in the government's multi-
million dollar tax suit against George and Andrew Florida of Osceola.

The federal government con-
tends the wealthy brothers owe
in excess of $9 million in back
taxes, penalties and interest for
the years 1951-54 and 1955-57.

The agent, Eugene D. Brown of Memphis, testified for over three
hours Monday after the trial resumed following a two-week delay.

Brown traced some $3.5 million
which he said was shuffled among Florida corporations with the
money ending as income for the
brothers or one of their 13 corporations with no tax returns
filed.

Robert L. Handros of Washington, D.C., a Department of Justice attorney, told the court the
government was entitled not only
to the taxes on this, but also a
civil fraud penalty because of the manner in which the funds were
transferred.

Much of Monday's testimony
was technical with Florida money-
flow being traced by the government through charts and sched-
ules of sums the government con-
tends were used with "an intent
to defraud."

The government is asking federal district court to determine
the amount owed by the brothers,
their wives and corporations.

Also being sought is an order
for liquidation of Florida assets.

Desegregates Memphis Port

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
Supreme Court directed today an
immediate ban on racial segregation in a restaurant in the Memphis, Tenn., Municipal Airport
building.

Lower federal courts were ordered to issue the ban.

The Supreme Court overturned
a ruling by a special three-judge
U.S. District Court in Memphis
that said Tennessee state courts
should interpret state laws, regulations and city ordinances involved in a segregation case before any federal court action is taken.

The Supreme Court's vote was 8-0. Justice Whitaker took no
part.

The highest tribunal in an un-
signed opinion said there was no
reason for federal courts to put
off action in the case, saying "on
the merits, no issue remains to
be resolved."

Texas Drowns in Lake Ouachita

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Of-
ficers said the body of a man
identified as A. D. Williamson,
about 45, of Wichita Falls, Tex.,
was recovered from Lake Ouachita
here today.

Officers said the victim's companion, Bob Bridwell, also of Wichita Falls, told them the two
were fishing in the lake Sunday
when their boat hit a hidden object in the lake and capsized.

Officers said Bridwell clung to
the two floating boat seats and
made his way to shore.

Williamson was found with a
life preserver and one seat cush-
ion, floating in the main channel
of the lake.

Suggests Seats May Be Frozen

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Or-
val E. Faubus suggested Monday
that persons dissatisfied with a
recent state Supreme Court ruling
on reapportionment seek a constitutional amendment to freeze
House seats.

But, the governor said, he
doubts if anyone will turn to federal courts for a solution.

He pointed out that Senate seats
already are frozen by such an
amendment.

The state is required to redi-
vide House seats following every
federal census because no such
amendment exists.

In a recent decision, the Arkansas Supreme Court took single
seats away from White, Poinsett,
Mississippi and Ouachita counties
while giving Pulaski three and Jefferson County one.

This action superceded that of
the state Board of Apportionment
which took one seat from Mississippi County and gave it to Miller County while leaving the remainder unchanged.

Fight Scene Saturday Was for Real

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of
sports-watchers on Saturday night
saw boxer Benny Paret, after ab-
sorbing many blows, slip unconscious onto the floor of the ring.
Then the television cameras
showed doctors working over the
fallen and critically injured ex-
champion and his removal on a
stretcher.

The scene is a familiar one to
anyone who has watched the
many television and movie
dramas about prizefights. But
Saturday night it was different:
Those were real blows Paret was
taking, and his slump to the floor
was that of a man who had suffered a serious injury. And, to
judge from comments by viewers,
it was a chilling thing to see.

But, perhaps the most unfortunate part was the decision of ABC to re-run immediately the
tape showing the final moments
of the fight, complete with scenes
of emergency treatment of the
unconscious man.

It is somehow ironic that this
occurred at a time when televi-
sion's critics are complaining of
excessive violence and brutality
in its program content. But the
offensive violence and brutality is
the Hollywood type—phony, com-
pounded of fierce swings that
miss their mark by inches and
heroic tussles by stunt men using

breakaway furniture.

Perry Como has decided to put in a full work year of 33 weekly shows next season on NBC, after all.

Star names draw audiences—
Saturday night's NBC old movie had Marlene Dietrich and James Stewart, and in most areas was getting bigger audiences than "Gunsmoke" which is the usual
winner in the weekly audience
race.

The daytime "Tennessee Ernie Ford Show" kicking off on ABC
Monday will include comedy, music, a sing-along feature, and will wind up with an inspirational song.

Internal Revenue Commissioner
Mortimer M. Caplin will be guest on "Meet the Press" next Sunday,
a timely appearance just two weeks from tax deadline.

Crooked Creek Dam Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed dam for Crooked Creek
near Harrison, Ark., reached closer
to reality here Monday with
approval by the Army's Board of Engineers for Rivers and Har-
bors.

A dam for the creek was proposed last year after a devastating flood wrecked the Harrison
business district.

Residents of the stricken area
appealed to Army Corps of Engineers for a large single dam
while other groups proposed a
series of smaller dams.

Col. John C. Dahmple, district
engineer for the Corps, said the
engineers had recommended to Washington that a single structure be built, with supporting

levees for flood control and water
supply.

The federal government would
pay $7,476,000 of the estimated $10,815,000 cost, with local residents paying the balance.

The next step toward approval
lies with the Chief of Army Engineers. If the project is okayed,
it will be submitted to Congress
for consideration with similar projects later this year.

Fined $10,000 for Failure to File

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Stutt-
gart resident, whose attorney said
he never before had filed income
tax returns, was fined $10,000 in
U.S. District Court here Monday
for failing to file such returns for
the years 1955-59.

Alfred L. Hildebrand pleaded
guilty before Judge Gordon E.
Young and received a two-year
suspended sentence in addition to
the fine.

William Moorhead of Stuttgart,
Hildebrand's attorney, said the 55-
year-old client had never filed in-
come tax returns but has already
paid $260,922 in back taxes,
penalties and interest for 1939-59.

The government contends Hilde-
brand failed to report $404,561 in
gross income tax for the 1955-59
period.

Pending in federal court are
similar suits against two of Hilde-
brand's brothers-in-law, Harrison
and Ralph Watkins, both of Stuttgart.

gation lakes.

ture be built, with supporting
levees for flood control and water
supply.

The federal government would
pay $7,476,000 of the estimated $10,815,000 cost, with local residents paying the balance.

The next step toward approval
lies with the Chief of Army Engineers. If the project is okayed,
it will be submitted to Congress
for consideration with similar projects later this year.

seats in state capitols and get more representation for themselves.

Because of Monday's decision, their hopes were higher.

In 1946 the Supreme Court said that "courts ought not to enter the political thicket. The remedy for unfairness in districting is to secure state legislatures that will apportion properly, or to invoke the ample powers of Congress."

Monday the court decided 6 to 2 a federal court can step in and determine whether city voters are unconstitutionally discriminated against in the apportionment of legislative seats.

The case had to do with Tennessee where there has been no reapportionment in 61 years. The decision had meaning in many other states.

In Pennsylvania, a watchdog group called the Committee of Seventy, declared it would bring suit unless the legislature redistricts during its session which begins in January.

Gov. John Patterson of Alabama said he may call a special session of the legislature. Last summer a group of Alabama voters sued in Montgomery, asking the legislature to reapportion itself. Their pending suit requested the court to force candidates for House and Senate to run at large this year unless the legislature was reapportioned.

In Topeka, Kan., Dist. Judge Marion Beatty said any action on a pending suit seeking to force reapportionment of the legislature would be delayed to permit all concerned to study the Supreme Court decision. Briefs had been due Friday.

In its decision in the Tennessee case, the Supreme Court said it would be improper for it to consider now what remedy would be most appropriate if the city voters prove their case at the trial.

Supreme Court sources, however, said this would be the follow-up on the ruling.

After 25 days of the Supreme Court clerk notifies the special three-judge federal court in Nashville that it has authority to act on complaints. The special court will hold a trial to give complaining voters an opportunity to try to prove their claims.

If the special court decides that urban voters' rights to equal protection under the 14th Amendment have been denied, it will determine what remedies to order.

Solicitor General Archibald Cox, arguing before the Supreme Court in support of urban voters, suggested a simple declaration by the special court that present Tennessee districts are unconstitutional would probably lead to action by the Tennessee Legislature to correct inequities.

Cox said that if the legislature resists, the special court could order one of the following:

An election at large.

The value of votes of state senators and representatives be reduced by an amount necessary to offset over-representation — giving legislators fractional rather than full votes.

Simple changes in legislative districts.

Opponents of such orders could appeal to the Supreme Court.

Claudia McCorkle GRADUATION IN JUNE will be a big event for Claudia McCorkle. She completed Hope High in 1959 and was recipient of the first Hempstead Home Demonstration Council's $100 4-H scholarship when she entered Texarkana College. Claudia is now practicing teaching at Hope High and plans to either enter the Extension service or teach. "Thanks to 4-H and HD Clubs for helping me prepare for my career," Miss McCorkle said.

Pete Cook EMPLOYMENT OF MELVIN R. (Pete) Cook as Scout Executive for the Caddo Area Boy Scouts of America was announced by the Council. He will be in charge of scouting activities in the area which consists of 10 counties in Texas and Arkansas, including Hempstead. He takes over April 1.

U. S. Policy on Attack Reaffirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that it has been, and still is, U.S. policy to use "all available means" to prevent the over-running of the West through a massive conventional attack on Europe by the Soviet Union.

This word came in reaction to an article in the Saturday Evening Post by Stewart Alsop quoting President Kennedy as saying that, "In some circumstances we might have to take the initiative" in a nuclear war with Russia.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger did not verify this or other remarks attributed to Kennedy. But he was ready for a question about the article and read this brief statement to newsmen:

"The quotation given in the Alsop article must be read in total context. The President's statement represents no change in American policy.

"It has always been clear that in such a context as a massive conventional attack on Europe by the Soviet Union, which would put Europe in danger of being overrun, the West would have to prevent such an event by all available means. This has been United States policy since the late 1940's, and it represents no change.

"The real change, as Mr. Alsop points out elsewhere in the article, is in the strengthening of our defensive alternatives to nuclear warfare."

Salinger told a questioner that he had not checked to see whether Alsop quoted the Chief Executive correctly. He said Alsop interviewed Kennedy five or six weeks ago.

Alsop cited a "clear attack on Western Europe" as an example of a situation in which he said Kennedy feels this country must be prepared to use nuclear weapons regardless of the consequences.

He said also, "The President's clear determination to risk nuclear war rather than tamely surrender Berlin has saved Berlin so far."

The Alsop article quoted Kennedy as saying at one point:

"I don't think most Americans realize the way the situation has changed. I don't think many people really understand the change.

"As late as 1954 the balance in air power, in the nuclear weapons, was all on our side. The change began about 1958 or 1959, with the missiles.

"Now we have got to realize that both sides have these annihilating weapons, and that changes the problem.

"Of course in some circumstances we must be prepared to use the nuclear weapon at the start, come what may—a clear attack on Western Europe, for example.

"But what is important is that if you use these weapons you have to control their use. What you need is control, flexibility, a choice."

Daughter's Boy Friend a Steady Boarder

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My daughter is a junior in a college not far from our town. She usually commutes but this year, wanting to assert her independence, found an apartment directly across from the college buildings. A girl friend shares it with her.

Our problem is the boy to whom she became "pinned" last spring. He is tops in his studies and putting himself through college — a fine boy, save for one thing: every time we go to our daughter's apartment he is under foot. Last time, he had fallen asleep on the living room couch waiting for her, not yet back from classes. Now, he and the two girls have decided to eat together every evening—he's to buy the meat, they do the cooking!

I feel that he should not snooze on their living room couch or become their steady boarder. My daughter says that is the only way they can see each other since he has no car and she comes home most weekends. I think she should be studying or, if he comes, go with him to a movie, instead of hanging around home. Am I too old-fashioned, or warped in my thinking? — Disturbed Mother.

Dear Disturbed: Your daughter's boy friend is presumptuous. If she's as independent as her decision to live away from home would indicate, he'll be old hat and on his way out before he knows it. Judging from his record at college, he sounds worth salivating as a son-in-law. Why not talk to him? Make it clear that you think he's just about right, in all but this premature taking over of your daughter's home. Add that you raise the question only because you fear she will tire of him.

Dear Helen: There is a school dance coming up in May and I'm worried. My boy friend doesn't know how to dance but goes just to goof off. This makes a public exhibition of us on the dance floor. I haven't that much sense of humor. If another boy asks me to dance I would hesitate to for fear of hurting my guy's feelings, yet, if I say no, the other boy might think me a snob. What shall I do? —Quandary.

Dear Quandary: Make it a condition that your boy friend learn to dance — or else. Why not teach him yourself? But, whether he learns or not, don't let him spoil your fun. Dance with whom you wish. The more popular you are the more eager he will be to please you.

Dear Helen: I'm in love with a bachelor who says he loves me, then adds, wedding bells are not for him. Though very affectionate, he cautions me not to become too serious. I am several years older, had an unhappy first marriage and don't want my heart broken a second time. Too, I have a little son by my former husband to consider. Though I doubt if this poses a problem. The bachelor and he get on swell. Being head over heels in love I can't think clearly. Help! —"Torn Apart Inside."

Dear Torn: Beware of the man who insists that he will never marry. It's just another way of breaking the news that you're being a stop-gap until the real girl comes along. Unless you want to play second fiddle till she does, take him at his word and refuse to be serious. Go out with other men. Don't be too accessible. If he really cares he will change his tune. If he doesn't you'll save yourself a lot more heartache by knowing the truth now.

Teacher Contract Clause Illegal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said Monday a 30-day termination clause in a teacher's contract with a school district is illegal.

The opinion by Atty. Gen. Frank Holt went to Supt. J. P. Wahl of Helena and said state law provides that teachers be employed by annual contract.

Wahl said his school district had included the 30 day clause in its contract.

Holt said none of this precluded dismissal of a teacher for sufficient cause at any time.

Castro Has Trouble With Communists

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro assailed "old Communist militants" Monday night for believing they are the only ones capable of leading the Cuban revolution. He accused one of them, Amibal Escalante, of creating "real chaos" in Cuba by trying to enhance his own political power.

Castro charged that Escalante, a top planner in Cuba's march toward communism, had sought (through personal ambition to model Cuba's new monolithic political party along his own sectarian lines.

The Cuban leader denounced his Communist aide in a radio-television address to the nation before a considerable number of ranking government members in the studio audience.

Castro did not specify that Escalante had been dismissed from his top posts but indicated he had saying: "We have come to explain the separation of this companion whom we consider culpable."

Escalante, 53, founder and former editor of the Communist newspaper Hoy, only two weeks ago was named to the 25-member national directorate of the Integrated Revolutionary Organizations—ORI.

Last year he was given the job

Castro Has Trouble With Communists

of welding all Cuban organizations, including Castro's 26th of July Movement and the Popular Socialist (Communist) party, into a single party to be known as the United Party of the Socialist Revolution.

It was in carrying out this task, Castro charged, that Escalante "abused the confidence entrusted in him and tried to create an apparatus to pursue personal ends."

Castro again denounced the so-called personality cult. He charged that Escalante had much to do with fostering a spirit of sectarianism which, Castro said, has led many to believe that the only ones who can be given important posts are "the old and militant revolutionaries."

"The boastfulness of the old Communist militants and the belief that those revolutionaries who don't belong to them are not able to occupy important posts is an absurd, negative, stupid policy," Castro shouted.

"They thought they had won the revolution in a raffle."

"We have forgotten that the number of Communists previously in the country was very small," he said. "Now that all the people embrace Marxism-Leninism, how absurd this sectarianism of the old Communist militants is. We must have more unity of all, the old and the new."

Castro warned that his remarks should not be interpreted as a retreat from his regime's goal of communizing Cuba.

commander, said he listened to the interview on an extension telephone and warned Owen during the call that Owen would face court-martial if the comment were published.

The defense continually objected that MacManus' action in listening to Owen's conversation was illegal and contrary to provisions against revealing wiretap evidence. The court ruled it did not believe an extension telephone was a wiretap device.

MacManus testified, "Owen kept telling him (the newsman) to clear with the PIO (public information officer). He told him at least three times. I told him (Owen) he was subject to court-martial if that was published."

MacManus said Owen followed his instructions, even to repeating to the newsman some things the captain said.

Defense counsel succeeded in striking two of the three counts against Owen on grounds all were for the same offense.

As he shook hands with her Kenneth concluded that wherever she got her looks, it was certainly not from her father. A small straight nose, creamy skin and deep blue eyes he had missed in his original appraisal. He was surprised to hear that she in turn had been appraising him.

"... don't look like a banker. Not that I really know many bankers, but you do expect a paunch."

Kenneth smiled somewhat foolishly. "Are you waiting for your father too, Miss Schneider?"

"Well that proves that Daddy is right, doesn't it?" she demanded of the world at large, apparently oblivious of the inhabitants of the lobby who were watching the encounter with interest. "He says I have a disorderly mind. I should have started by explaining that he asked me to pick you up and drive you out to Framingham."

She tucked an arm through his. Kenneth replied that he could think of nothing more pleasant than being driven to Framingham, but that he certainly didn't want to inconvenience anybody.

She proceeded briskly toward a bright yellow sports car double-parked near the entrance. "Here we are," she said as she settled herself behind the wheel and waited for him to circle the car. Ken felt that he was being swept along by a torrent but he arranged himself in the seat obediently. Sweeping around in an illegal U-turn, she accelerated with a roar toward Commonwealth Avenue.

"I hope you're not nervous with women drivers," she remarked as

BANKING ON DEATH

THE STORY: John Thatcher had written to Kathryn Schneider notifying her that her two sons now seem to be heirs to an estate following the murder of their father. He also decides to send young Kenneth Nicolls to Boston to see another branch of the Schneider family.

Chapter 8
It was not until Monday that Kenneth Nicolls arrived in Boston prepared to "watch reactions." At 3:15 in the afternoon he sat in the lobby of the Sheraton Plaza waiting, with no enthusiasm, for Arthur Schneider to appear. The Sloan's Travel Department had been courteous and efficient in providing transport to Logan airport. Arthur Schneider, on the other hand, was first unreachable, then brusque and impatient when asked for an interview at what he described as "disgracefully short notice." Ken looked at his watch. It was Schneider who had suggested a meeting at the Sheraton Plaza and dismissed Kenneth's offer to present himself in Framingham. Not really the ideal place to conduct what Ken foresaw as an awkward interview.

Lobbies in Boston, it was apparent, attracted a different group than did lobbies in New York. Directly across from him, a red-faced man in an ancient brown suit was impatiently tapping his foot; next to him, two grandmotherly women in identical flower-decorated black hats sat with folded hands. A slim red-haired girl with a beaver jacket thrown over her shoulders was rumaging in her bag in the corner, while behind Kenneth four salesmen with bulging folders were arguing about somebody named Max.

The redhead sat quietly in the corner. Kenneth glanced at her. Very good legs. She raised an interrogative eyebrow as she interrupted his appraisal, and he returned to his watch: 3:30. Still no Arthur Schneider.

"You're not by any chance Mr. Nicolls, are you?" Kenneth looked up, then rose quickly; it was the redhead. When he admitted his identity, she laughed.

"How ridiculous! We've both been sitting here like bumps on a log. Oh," she said as she noted his puzzlement, "I'm Jane Schneider."

As he shook hands with her Kenneth concluded that wherever she got her looks, it was certainly not from her father. A small straight nose, creamy skin and deep blue eyes he had missed in his original appraisal. He was surprised to hear that she in turn had been appraising him.

"... don't look like a banker. Not that I really know many bankers, but you do expect a paunch."

Hope-PreScott Track Meet Here Today

By VINCE FOSTER

Hope is the host to a bi-city track meet to be held today on the Babel track field adjacent to Hammond Stadium. Present is the other school represented, the first events begin at 3:45 p.m. Previously this season Prescott edged out the local team by two points, so this should prove to be a close one.

Friday the junior and senior teams journeyed to Stamps where they both ended up in third place. The host school won it with 56 points, followed by Murfreesboro with 49½, Hope with 33½ and Stephens with 16.

Larry Thrash broke the school record set only two weeks ago with a 9' 8" pole vault. Larry is a sophomore.

Senior Division
100 yard dash — Aldridge, 1st, second heat. Winning time 10.7.
220 yard dash: McDowell, 2nd, second heat. Time 24.6.
440 yd. dash: Horton, 3rd, Time 54 flat.

880 yard: Russell, 2nd; Parris, 3rd. Time 2:12.1.
Mile run: Compton, 3rd. Time 4:57.6.

120 yd. high hurdles: Wassell, 4th. Winning time 16.8.

180 yd. low hurdles: Wassell, 3rd. Winning time 23.4.

440 yd. relay: Hope, Horton, McDowell, Aldridge and Sullivan, 2nd.

880 yd. relay: Hope first.

Mile relay: Hope, third.

Pole vault: Thrash, 2nd. Winning vault 10 foot.

Broad jump: Wassell, 4th. Winning jump 18.3.

High jump: Roberts, 3rd. Winning jump 5.8.

ALWORTH CARRIES BALL FOR EASTER SEALS

Lance Alworth, All-American footballer of the Arkansas Razorbacks, set his eyes on another goal today when he was appointed state sports chairman for the 1962 Easter Seal campaign in Arkansas. He will lead hundreds of high school athletes and other volunteers in the statewide Easter Seal parade on Tuesday, April 10.

Casper Wins Florida Golf Match

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—It was right there for the taking—a bundle of cash bigger than he had yet dared to dream of, and an upset golf victory of major proportions.

Paul Bondeson, a remarkable young player at 22, but still a bit gun-shy in the company of the great, had it right in his hands in Monday's final round of the $50,000 Doral Country Club Open.

But when the showdown came on the final holes and the $9,000 winner's purse rode with every stroke, the tournament-tested veteran, Bill Casper, pushed through to win in dramatic fashion over the nervous rookie.

Leading Casper by four strokes through the 11th, Bondeson finally got the jitters and lost his entire margin on two straight double bogies.

Casper wound up with a 71 for a four-round total of 283, five under par, and one stroke ahead of Bondeson, who slipped to a 73.

The green youngster still won $4,000 for second place, however—sufficient money to keep him on the tour at a time when he was about to give up for lack of funds and return to Northbrook, Ill., where he is a teaching pro.

Casper's victory boosted him from 16th to 4th among 1962 golf money winners with a total of $15,948.

Jack Nicklaus, another bright young star who has competed in only 10 tournaments, took third; in the Doral at 285 won $3,000 the money.

Casey's Mets Take Blasting From Orioles

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
With only two weeks to go before New York's spanking new Mets begin firing in earnest, Casey Stengel wanted to take a good long look at one of his front-line pitchers—Jay Hook.

It turned out a shattering experience, for the grizzled old Case, and for the young right-hander.

Facing the Baltimore Orioles Monday before a meager turnout of 736 spectators at Miami Stadium, Hook was belted with abandon as the American League club bombed the new National League entry 18-8.

The Orioles rocked Hook for six innings, clipping him for 17 of their 21 hits and 16 of their runs, with a finishing burst of 9 hits and 8 runs in the sixth. They collected two more runs and four hits against rookie Evans Killean.

Included in the outburst again Hook were two homers by Dave Nicholson, and one each by Brooks Robinson, John Powell and Russ Snyder.

Hook, a $125,000 premier player drafted by the Mets from Cincinnati was distraught at the pounding but emphasized he held no grudge against Stengel for leaving him in.

The manager said, "I left him in there because I want to make him a starting pitcher—a nine inning pitcher—and he worked the equivalent of nine innings. Anyway, I don't think it hurt him. And it might make a better pitcher of him."

Elsewhere in exhibition action—the streaking St. Louis Cardinals made it eight in a row, shading the Cincinnati Reds 7-6; the New York Yankees tripped the Detroit Tigers 6-5 in 10 innings in the first meeting of the two American League contenders this spring; the Houston Colts trounced the Los Angeles Angels 7-0; the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Milwaukee Braves 7-3; the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Chicago White Sox 10-9; and the Chicago Cubs hammered the Cleveland Indians 10-4.

A seven-run explosion in the fourth inning, started by Ken Boyer's bases-empty homer and climaxed by Minnie Minosos' homer with two on, enabled the Cards to top the Reds. Cincinnati had jumped ahead 5-0 against Curt Simmons before the Cards found the range against Jim Maloney.

Pedro Gonzales, who was optioned to Richmond by the Yankees just before game time, bid farewell with a 10th inning triple that drove in the winner against Detroit. John Blanchard, who singled before Gonzales' hit, also homered for the Yanks, as did Mickey Mantle. Rocky Colavito socked two for the Tigers.

The biggest purse of his career. The old master, Ben Hogan, tied with Ted Kroll for fourth at 266.

Arnold Palmer's 11th place finish and $1,230 check made him the year's biggest money winner with $15,408 as the previous leader, Gene Littler, finished out of the money.

Hog Baseball Game Postponed

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A baseball game between Arkansas and Buena Vista College of Storm Lake, Iowa, was postponed here Monday because of wet grounds.

The teams were scheduled to play a single game today and a doubleheader Wednesday.

Prince Dale Pays 50-1 at Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Apprentice Robert Craig piloted 50-1 longshot Prince Dale past a field of Arkansas Derby hopefuls Monday to win the $4,000 Oaklawn Park feature in a photo finish.

Prince Dale covered the mile and 70 yards of fast track in 1:42 1-5 and beat Paxton Harthill's favored Mamelot by a nose.

John D. Askew's Killoqua, ridden by Wayne Chambers, finished third, three and one-half lengths farther back.

The winner paid $108, $25.00 and $10.60.

Monday's crowd of 8,332 wagered $552,861.

Salason, five-year-old son of Mr. Trouble and Salaminitia, part of a W. Hal Bishop entry, rules as the probable favorite in today's featured $3,500 Arkansas Liquefied Petroleum Gas Purse.

Salason, stepping down from the handicap division, runs as an entry with Pyrite in the mile and 70-yard allowance affair.

He carries topweight of 117 pounds.

Salason, to be ridden today by Robert Nono, finished sixth in Saturday's $10,000 Razorback Handicap. Last year Salason won seven of 27 starts earning more than $46,000 in purse money.

Pyrite, the other half of the Bishop entry, has had only one outing at Oaklawn Park, closing strongly for show honors in a sprint affair.

Under conditions of the race, Pyrite gets in at 112 pounds.

Mrs. Emil Denemark's Mangam, who has been performing well here, rates as the threat to the Bishop racers.

Others entered in the feature event are Caranonce Stable's Golden Comet, Lillian Bayliff and H. J. Wise's Air Pilot, J. W. McCombs Astale, Donrey Stable's Fair Hour and J. E. Cosgrove's Blue Croon.

Mangam has been meeting top grade company in his Oaklawn efforts. His last victory was at Sportsman's Park in the fall. He will be ridden by Sidney Lejeune.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three days after he regained the world welterweight championship, Emile Griffith walks the streets of New York sleepless, haggard, grimaced.

"No," said Griffith today, "I haven't had much sleep. I've been doing a lot of thinking and praying."

Saturday night in Madison Square Garden, Griffith, a New Yorker who was born in the Virgin Islands, knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in the 12th round in their world welterweight title bout.

Paret still hasn't regained consciousness. He lies in Roosevelt Hospital, four holes drilled in his skull to relieve the effects of two blood clots near his brain. He is hanging onto a thin thread of life.

"No, I haven't seen him," Griffith said. "I was at the hospital a couple of times. Once they wouldn't let me upstairs. When I went back some of Benny's friends were in the hall and I decided that I'd better not go in."

Griffith, a hat designer when he isn't in the ring, is tormented by the fact that there were hard feelings between him and Paret before the fight. He is the first to admit it.

"Now," he said sadly, "they're trying to get me to say I wanted to kill him. All I wanted was to be champion again. I didn't want to hurt him."

"People come up to me and say how come a sweet little boy like you who designs hats can turn tiger and hurt a man's brain. They all say that. When I got in the ring I forgot I was mad at him."

"Now I can't sleep and they won't even let me see him," Griffith said he visited Msgr.

Benny Peral Still in Coma, Probe Starts

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny (Kid) Paret continued in a coma today as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller studied a rush report by the State Athletic Commission on the grudge fight that cost Paret his world welterweight title—and maybe his life.

A medical bulletin from Roosevelt Hospital said the 25-year-old Cuban-born boxer was in critical condition and the outlook was "extremely grave."

Emile Griffith, the new welterweight champion who battered Paret senseless at Madison Square Garden Saturday night, said in a radio interview:

"It's all a nightmare. I pray for Benny's recovery very fast. It's all in God's hands."

The State Athletic Commission went into secret session Monday under orders from the governor, who had said he was "deeply concerned and disturbed."

The commission viewed films of the fight which was seen by millions on television, and heard testimony from nine witnesses.

The principal witness was referee Ruby Goldstein, who has been criticized by the Paret camp for not stopping the fight sooner in the 12th round when Griffith kept bashing Paret's head, caught between the ropes.

Dr. John Crisp, a chief surgical resident at Roosevelt Hospital, said Paret "is being maintained under hypothermia (treatment to lower his body requirements)."

Crisp said at a news conference that the chances are 10,000 to 1 against Paret's ever regaining full control of his body after the brain damage he suffered. The doctor said that if he lives he might remain in a coma for a year or more.

Brain surgery was performed on Paret early Sunday.

His pregnant wife, Lucy, has been keeping vigil at the hospital since she flew here from Miami Sunday.

There had been bad blood between Paret and Griffith for about a year, during which they fought three times, and Saturday night's fight was a real grudge affair.

Griffith admittedly was angry over remarks by Paret that challenged his manhood. Griffith, a military designer out of the ring, had said Paret cursed and insulted him before and during the fight.

"I'm sorry now that I ever became a fighter," Griffith said. "I guess I'll go on fighting sometime, somewhere, but I don't want to think about it now."
